We joy of life's pleasures
All we can find;
Yet richest the Treasures
We find in our mind.

This book of school days we adorn
With vivid gems of the past.
In years to come, no matter how worn,
These cherished Treasures will last.

Senior Class Song
by Millie Holt and Jenny Mabry
(tune: "With These Hands")

Memories -- I will keep of you -- I'll keep forever and a day
Memories -- Will be sweet of you -- Recalling Graduation Day.
In my heart -- I will keep for you -- Treasures forever and a day
Memories -- of our parting days -- Here from dear old Norwood High We'll go our separate ways.
and we'll cherish --
Yes, we'll cherish MEMORIES!!

Class History

One bright sunny day in 1942, a group of frightened but happy, boys and girls entered the first grade. We found Mrs. Lumsden and Mrs. Stegall were going to be our teachers. Whether we knew it or not, they were going to play a very important part in our lives. They had a hard time teaching us our ABC's, to read, and to write our names, but after nine months of "readin', ritin', & rithmetic," school was out and we were promoted to the second grade.

Although we were having a wonderful summer vacation, we were glad to get back to school. We had two very capable teachers, Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Short, who were ready to teach us. School wasn't all studying, because we had play periods after which the teachers told us stories.

Then, before we knew it, another year had passed, and we were in the third grade with Mrs. Skidmore and Mrs. Sims teaching us the three R's. By this time we were beginning to enjoy school parties and May Day performances. We worked hard and were promoted to the fourth grade. It was a very exciting year, not only because Mrs. Skidmore and Mrs. Farher were our teachers, but because we were going to enter the Grammar Grades. The next year this excitement came to a climax with our entering the fifth grade with Mrs. Vick and Mrs. Lowder as our teachers. We made many new friends, and by the time we became acquainted with everyone, we entered the sixth grade with Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Farner as our teachers.

Time was beginning to really pass fast when we entered the seventh grade and had Mrs. Avett and Mrs. Mabry as our teachers. We enjoyed Chapel Programs and play periods very much this year. Next year we had Miss Norwood and Mr. Morgan as our eighth grade teachers. Then, instead of play periods, we had Physical Education, and we were tickled pink to get to play basketball! We enjoyed many parties that year and were beginning to feel as if we were big boys and girls.

Even though we hated to leave the Grammar Grades, we could hardly wait to enter high school in the fall of '51. With our entry into high school, with 53 students, we held the record of being the largest Freshman Class in the school's history. Mr. Richardson and Miss Tait were our sponsors, and we enjoyed hayrides and wiener roasts that year. We were teased and called "Green-Freshmen" by the upperclassmen, but we didn't mind, for we were having a wonderful time. Near the end of our freshman year, the present high school building was completed and we moved into it with pride.

The next year was just as much fun with Mrs. Finley as our sponsor. As Sophomores, we were becoming more familiar with high school, and we were having a nice time.

When we became Juniors, we really felt like upperclassmen with Mr. Russell as our sponsor. This was the year we had long awaited. On January 12, 1954, a very exciting thing happened—we received our class rings! We worked hard the latter part of the year planning the Junior-Senior Banquet, which we gave on April 30, and about which we surely kept the Seniors guessing.

By this time we had begun to think seriously about our future. When we returned to school the next year as "dignified" Seniors, almost everyone had decided what he was going to do after graduation. Now in 1954-1955, forty grown-up boys and girls are reigning as Seniors. Our dreams are coming true with Mrs. A. D. McNeill as our sponsor, whom we all love and adore sincerely.

We are looking forward to graduation with much gladness, and yet with sadness, because we will have to leave the place where we had so much fun. Looking back over these past twelve years, we see that many of our hopes and dreams have come true. We, the Seniors of '55 will always treasure those happy and wonderful days.

Treasured Jewels Reflect The Future

I had just finished looking at "TREASURES"—the Annual of the Class of 1955. As I put it away, the thought struck me that I should get my treasure chest of Jewels that I had inherited from many generations past, and check to see that all the jewels were there.

The first stone I picked up was a firey red RUBY. I don't know why, but in that ruby the life of Wanda Russell, one of my classmates of '55 seemed to be reflected. I could see Wanda as head of the English Department at Catawba College offering Shakespeare as her favorite course of study.

Next I chose an exquisite EMERALD. In the depths of this stone the past few years of Nancy Lee's life came into view. I saw Nancy leaving her position as Commercial teacher in one of the best known high schools in the U. S. to become private secretary to the most "scrumptious" U. S. Senators you ever saw.

I chose next a milk white PEARL. On the surface of this stone the lives of Libby Poplin, Mary Ellen Russell, Elaine Story and Syble Lomax were reflected. I learned that for several years each of these girls had been in Washington, D. C., holding jobs as private secretaries to very outstanding statesmen. But, now I saw Elaine busy making Roger Furr a good little wife. Oh! I almost didn't see Barbara Snuggs, but I see her clearly now. She, too, has been working in Washington, D. C., as a private secretary to the Vice President.

As I sit here and look at this lovely TOPAZ, the lives of Maureen Aldridge and Betty Ann Rushing seem to come to me. Maureen and Betty Ann are now partners in their own Commercial School in the city of Charlotte.

I chose next a brilliant SAPPHIRE. In this stone I could see Jenny Mabry and Millie Holt as famous nurses. Millie has made a name for herself in Pediatrics and Jenny is very outstanding in O. B. Oh, yes! Mary Elizabeth Colson is aiso coming into view in this stone: Mary Lib holds the job of editor of a national newspaper. Incidentally, she is making Jarrett Poplin a mighty good little wife.

I then picked up a beautiful AMETHYST. In this stone the lives of Francis Philemon and Claudine Eddins came into view. These classmates are now co-owners of a world famous beauty salon in Boston. Francis is head of the large advertising department of the salon, and Claudine is the head beautician.

The next stone was a beautiful OPAL. In it I saw Peggy Eudy and Dorothy Gibson. Peggy is now married to "Tootie" Snuggs and is extremely happy. They're owners of one of the biggest country estates in the state. Dorothy and Bruce are still out in California. Dot liked it so much when she went out there to join him after she graduated from high school in '55 that they decided to stay. They, too, are extremely happy and are owners of a chain of hotels out there.

The next treasure I chose was a MOONSTONE. In this I saw the lives of Nancy Hatley and Joan Short. Nancy is now head nurse at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. She really has made a name for herself in medicine. Joan Short, one of Nancy's dearest friends in high school, is now teaching English and Dramatics at Duke University. She. too, has made quite a name for herself in English, especially in Dramatics.

Next I chose a GARNET, and in this stone I saw Barbara Johnson's life reflected. She is now owner of a large chain of food stores. She also drives the "gonest" pink Cadillac you ever saw.

I picked up a lovely SARDONYX. In this stone Jean Wilhoit's life seemed to be reflected. She is a County Home Demonstration Agent—a very efficient one.

The next stone I selected was an AQUAMARINE. In this stone I saw Avanell Liske's and Carolyn Thompson's lives reflected. Both are now Physical Education Coaches at a well known college and are nationally known for their basketball ability. By the way, Avanell is now Mrs. Bud Griffith!

I picked up next an exquisite LAPIS-LAZULI. In this stone I could see Sara Russell's life reflected. She is now the owner of her own dress shop in a large Northern city. She also designs the dresses sold in her shop.

Next I selected a TOURMALINE in which I could see Carolyn Story's life reflected. She is now head nurse at Stanley County Hospital. She is quite an attractive addition to any hospital staff.

I picked up a second OPAL; and in this stone I seemed to see the past few years of Roberta Stogner's life coming into view. Roberta had gone through college with a straight "A" average. She now handles all the financial affairs at Sacs Department Store in New York.

Again I picked up a beautiful TOPAZ. Buddy Russell seemed to come into view in this stone. Buddy had gone through High Point College on a basketball scholarship. At present Buddy is head coach for N. C. State's Wolfpack. Don Ziglar, too, seemed to come into view in this stone. Don's basketball ability had aided him in a college education, also. At present Don is coaching a college team, too, but he is thinking of following in his dad's footsteps and being a minister.

I picked up a second GARNET. In this lovely stone Joe Lentz's life seemed to be reflected. Joe, being the only married boy in our class when we graduated from high school, now owns his own insurance company. By the way, he and Saundra have a beautiful little family.

AN AGATE, the next stone I selected, seemed to reflect Bill Caulder's and Oscar Blalock's lives. Bill and Oscar joined the Air Force when they graduated from N. H. S., and they both are famous jet airplane test pilots. Last week they broke the speed record of the world.

Next I picked up a beautiful CRYSTAL. In the clear depths of this stone Don Byrd's life came into view. Don received many honors when he attended Davidson. At present he holds the position of Speaker for the U. S. House of Representatives.

Again I picked up a lovely MOONSTONE. The past few years of Elton Hudson's life seemed to come into view. Elton is now a world famous surgeon at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland.

The next stone I picked up was an exquisite SARDONYX. In the depths of this stone I could see J. W. Colson's and Reece Deese's lives reflected. J. W. and Reece are now co-general managers of C&A in their new plant in Philadelphia.

Again I picked up a TOURMALINE, and Don Tucker seemed to come to my view. Donald is now head of his own Detective Agency which has become nationally famous. Donald is also a well known author of humorous short stories.

The next stone I drew out was an AQUAMARINE, and there Hoy Whitlock's life seemed to be reflected. Hoy is now head of the Bureau of Drivers' License in Raleigh. Hoy has proved to be very efficient in his chosen field.

A lovely AMETHYST is the next stone I selected. In this stone Eddie Hathcock and Craig Blalock seem to come into view. Eddie and Craig are now very prominent Agriculture teachers after having attended State College.

Again I chose a lovely SAPPHIRE. In this stone Harold Mabry's life seemed to be reflected. Harold is now playing professional baseball with the New York Yankees.

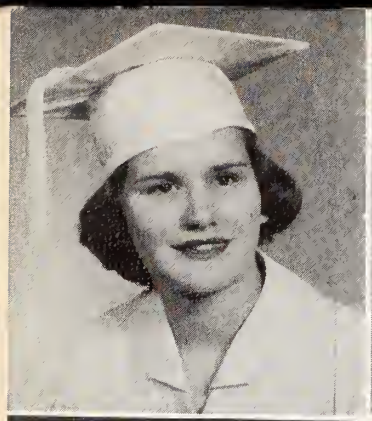
Next I chose a brilliant TURQUOISE. In this stone B. W. Crump seemed to come to life. "Dub" is now coaching baseball at one of the largest high schools in the state.

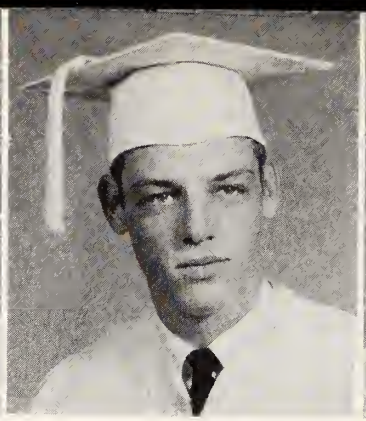
The last stone, being a beautiful sparkling DIAMOND, brings to my mind no one but our Senior Sponsor back at dear ole N. H. S. in '55—Mrs. A. D. McNeill. Mrs. McNeill is still Senior Sponsor at Norwood and is doing a beautiful job as she has always done.

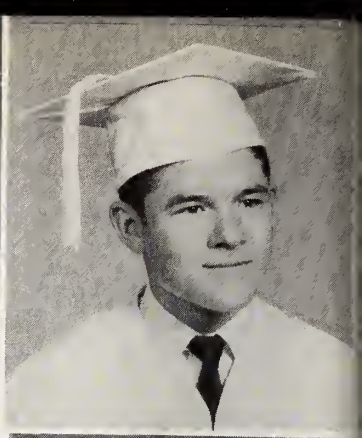
How wonderful was the discovery that my classmates were linked with my most priceless TREASURES!

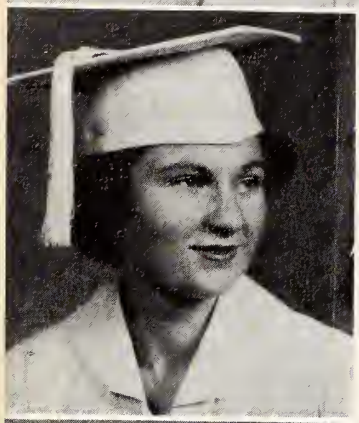
Tenderly I returned each beautiful gem to my treasure chest.

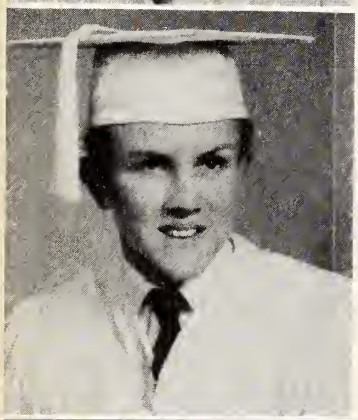
Sarah Russell, Class Prophet.

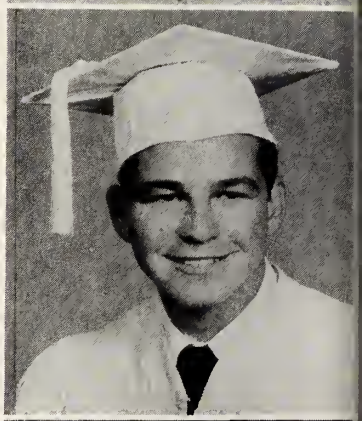


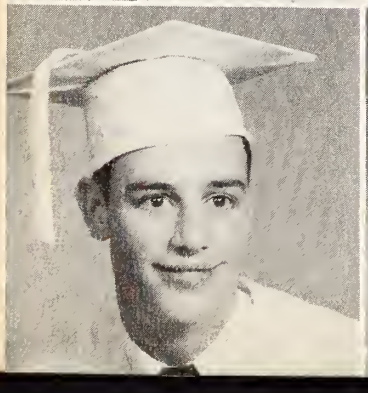


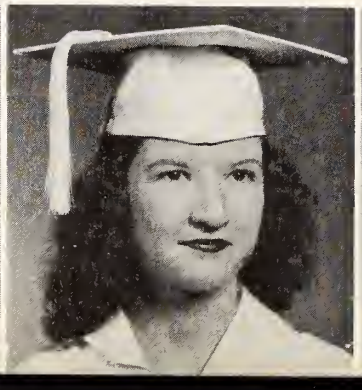


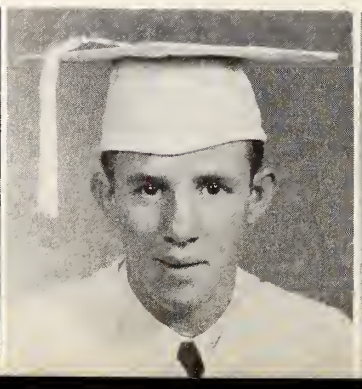












Class Will

We, the Senior Class of Norwood High School, Norwood, North Carolina, County of Stanley, being of sound mind and memory after four years of hard work, hereby declare this our last Will and Testament, to dispose of our personal TREASURES to our classmates and friends:

To our dear old school, we would just like to leave and keep its "Treasures" with us forever.

We would like to leave to Mr. Short, our principal, our deepest appreciation for everything he has done for us.

To our faculty we would like to leave our schoolmates with the hope that they love them as much as we think they loved us.

To the Juniors we leave our place as Seniors, with the request that they always remember us.

We the Senior Class of '55, wish to leave our Senior Treasures to Mrs. A. D. McNeill, our sponsor, hoping that she has enjoyed them as much as we have.

To our Grade Parents, we leave our appreciation for the wonderful things they have done for us.

These members of the Senior Class leave these effects to their schoolmates:

Buddy Russell leaves No. 25 to Lawrence Smith.

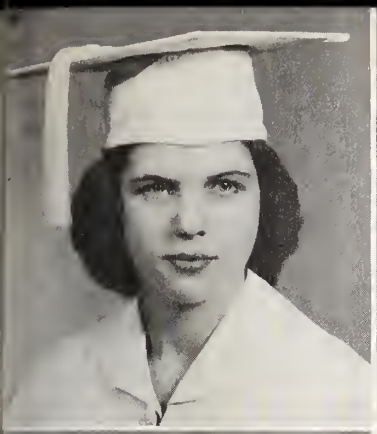
Elaine Story just wishes to leave so as to be with Roger Furr.

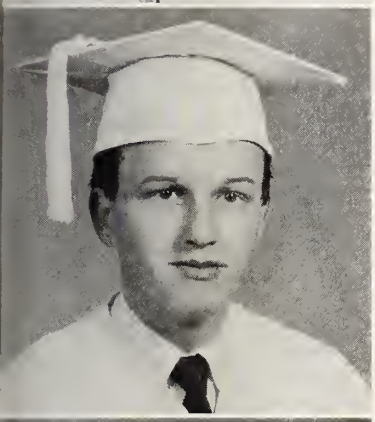
Roberta Stogner wills her good grades to Rebeti. Livingston.

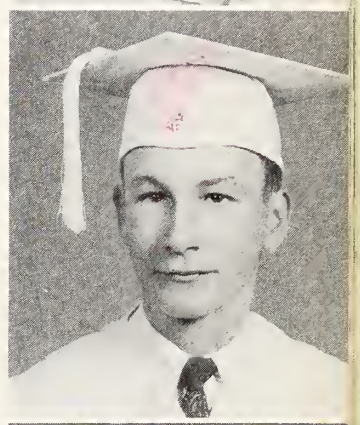
Joan Short leaves a "Merry" No. 75 locker to Adelaide Young.

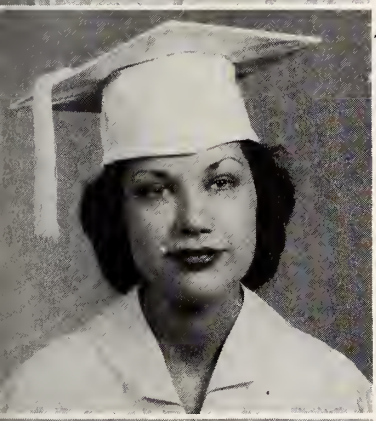
Reese Deese leaves his ability to work and go to school to W. T. Story.

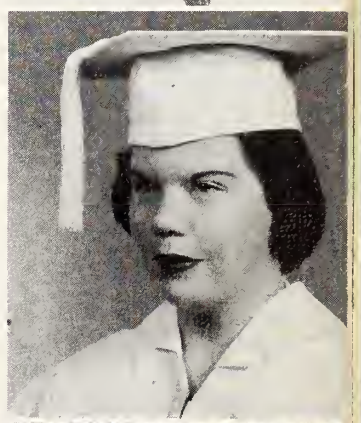
Maureen Aldridge leaves her ability to blush Eleanor Hathcock.

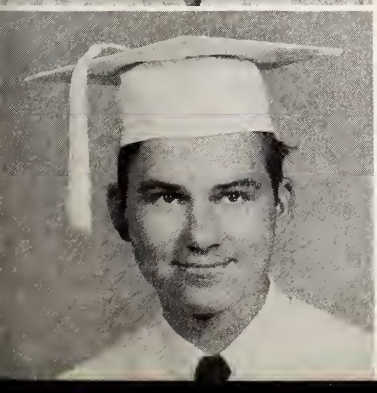


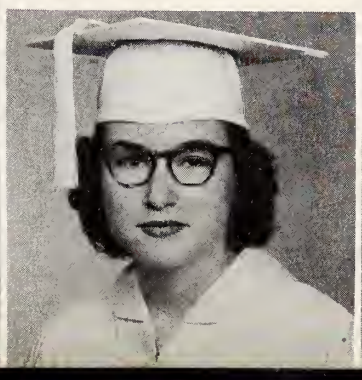


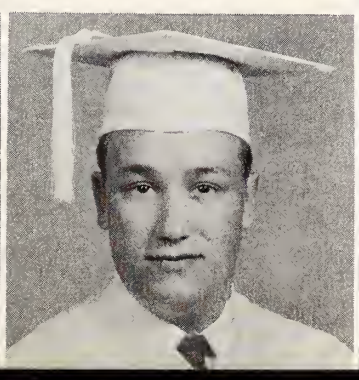


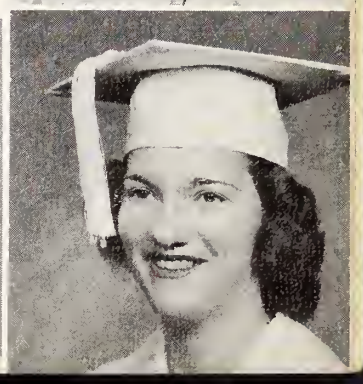












Don Tucker leaves his gun and detective badge to W. B. Lee.

Peggy Eudy wills her ability to write love letters to Jewel Hatley.

Elton Hudson leaves the position of Senior Class President to some lucky Junior.

Claudine Eddins leaves her "Friendliness" to Carolyn Whitley.

Avanell Liske leaves her basketball ability to Shirley Bourgault.

Sybil Lomax would like to leave her personality to Sue Smith.

Carolyn Thompson leaves her basketball suit to Carol Russell.

Wanda Russell leaves her ability as newspaper journalist to Margaret Hocutt.

Barbara Snuggs leaves her ability to guard to Barbara Hinson.

Carolyn Story leaves her quiet ways to Louise Blalock.

Jean Wilhoit just wishes to get out.

Barbara Johnson leaves her "Shyness" to "Flossie" Burr.

Dorothy A. Gibson leaves her lonely nights to some unlucky Junior girl.

Mary Ellen Russell leaves her ability to "Flirt" to Elizabeth Eddins.

Bill Caulder leaves his ability to cut up in class to Larry McMahon.

Millie Holt leaves her musical ability to Lottie Mabry.

Nancy Hatley leaves her space that Joan's coat takes up in her locker to Nancy Caudle.

B. W. Crump leaves his position as Co-Captain of the football team to Tommy Skidmore.

Hoy J. Whitlock leaves his great Heart to some great Junior boy.

Francis Philemon leaves her ability as a photographer to Ruth Blalock.

Nancy Lee wills her "Shortness" to Joanne Brock.

Don Ziglar leaves his great personality to Dwight Smith.

Betty Ann Rushing leaves her modest ways to Mary Francis Howell.

Harold Mabry leaves his ability to play football to Benny Mabry.

Sara Russell leaves her black hair to Janet Thompson.

Mary Elizabeth Colson leaves her position as Co-Editor of the Annual to Louise Thompson.

Libby Poplin wills her "hook" shot to Irma Thomas.

Joe Lentz leaves his ability to snow-under the feminine gender to Bill Dennis.

Jenny Mabry wishes to leave her position as Cheerleader to Ruby Hathcock.

Don Byrd leaves his ability to draw and also his good grades to Vernon Austin.

Oscar Blalock leaves, but his heart stays with Saundra Hutchinson.

Craig Blalock leaves his "Old Faithful" school bus to W. C. Allen.

J. W. Colson leaves his ability to work and to maintain good grades to Lowell Honeycutt.

Eddie Hathcock would like to leave his driving ability to Carroll Lisenby.

In witness whereof, we have sealed this and set our hands, this Twenty-fifth day of May, 1955.

S.P.S. SONG

Oh, we're the members of the S.P.S.
Of good ole Norwood High --
We want our school to be the best --
And to that end we try --
In scholarship and morals too,
And all the games as well
To urge each one his part to do
To make our school look swell.
Oh, Norwood High School,
We are proud of you!
Dear Norwood High School,
To thee, we'll 'ere be true.
We'll always do the best we can
And unto others do,
As we'd have others do to us
And to our school be true!

Farewell Song

by Sara Russell

(tune: "Whither Thou Goest")

Our school days, so happy and gay, We'll cherish as memories always;
Our schoolmates will linger through all the years--Their smiles, their laughter, and their tears.
Where e'er we go, we will think of you, And to our school we will e're be true;
Your friendship is planted deep in our souls, Treasured while eternity rolls.

So classmates, here our journey ends; We say goodbye to our childhood friends.
We've finished the course and fought a good game, Brought honor upon thy dear name.
Now separate ways each of us will go--Where e'er they lead we shall not know.
Let's cherish forever each loving friend--Classmates, we've reached our journey's end.
